An anonymous letter, complaining about the fairness of one of the entries at the recent School Fair, has been received by the secretary. The Executive wishes to take this means of announcing that, for obvious reasons, it will not take action on information received anonymously. If the writer will address a signed letter to the Secretary the matter will receive a thorough and impartial investigation. The Executive is anxious to reduce to a minimum all unfair competition.

Monitor James Taylor has obtained a temporary position as overseer in connection with the alterations to the Curling Rink Building. As master of the rink, he was previously overseeing and not much actual shovel work will they get James on his hands. He is to be from 4.30 to 5 p.m. with 20 minutes off at a rest period and two days a week.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schuer on the selection of the photo of their baby to be hung in the Photographic Studio, 100 Main Street, Strathmore, Alberta. The portrait was taken by Miss Pawley of Calgary who specialises in children's photos.

John W. Cope of High River is a well known figure in the town. He has been auditing the Town Books for the last quarter. Secretary of the town is still missing for the one cent that could not be located three or four years ago, but T M still has hopes.

Mr. T B Hartley of Calgary was the guest for a few days last week of Mrs. A. Gray.

Mrs. H. H. Holden of Covert will spend a few days next week with her mother, Mrs. Helen Nelson.

Rev. H. B. Hurdless, Mrs. Hurdless, in Miss Florence and Alice Garrett and Ernie Wright motored to Lomond Tuesday where they assisted in the Concert given following the Annual Chicken Supper.

Mrs. Louisa is on the invalid list and having to take a couple of weeks rest. Her friends hope for a complete recovery for her by the first.

Miss Strathmore and daughter Helen are spending the week in Nanaimo with T. P. McNamee the United Front candidate at the foot of the list.

In all elections where the vote is expected to be close Liberals and C. P. are not claiming victory. There is nothing to it, say the C. P. people. We are going to win in a substantial majority, the Liberals declare. From my own check up it looks as if McMillan would have a substantial margin from the east end of the riding, that is from those parts of the Pelly and Canora provincial constituencies that form a part of this federal riding.

McMILLAN SEEMS TO BE LEADING IN BY-ELECTION RACE

Wadena, Sask., Oct. 18.—St. Catharines, C. P. candidate and J. A. McMillan, Liberal, are running a neck to neck race for a seat in the Dominion House with the chances today slightly in McMillan's favor. A check up of 40 out of 107 polls indicates that, having some last minute work, the Liberal has the best chance of being the next M. P. for Mackenzie.

The field has always been between Stubbins and McMillan and while it is doubtless true that the presence of the Hon. Robert Vaid and Hon. H. H. Stewart in the constituency will add to the vote for S. H. Edgar, Conservative candidate, it looks as though he can do nothing better than a poor third with T. P. McNamee the United Front candidate at the foot of the list.

In all elections where the vote is expected to be close Liberals and C. P. are not claiming victory. There is nothing to it, say the C. P. people. We are going to win in a substantial majority, the Liberals declare. From my own check up it looks as if McMillan would have a substantial margin from the east end of the riding, that is from those parts of the Pelly and Canora provincial constituencies that form a part of this federal riding.

He will get a substantial majority here in his own town and seems to be the favorite in Rosevalley, Arvan, Pelly, Hanna and Lacombe.

Stubbins seems to be favored at Edmonton, Wadena, and probably Pelly. The C. P. candidate will also get the bulk of the Doukhobor vote, it would seem, but is not large, say many of these people do not believe in the franchise. The Ukrainian vote is likely to go strongly Liberal, although the C. P. following is coming at least 50 per cent.

I have been at only three election polls in all three the sentiment was overwhelmingly Liberal.

Edgar, the Conservative candidate, will get a good vote in Buchanan, his home town, although the poll was very close. He is also favored in the towns and villages but there will be some of the rural polls where he will get a single vote.

The campaign is warming up now that the end is less than a week away, meetings are being better attended and if the weather holds the action day, there should be a heavy vote.

COMING EVENTS

A general meeting of the Strathmore Athletic Association will be held in the Town Hall on Monday, October 23rd at 8 p.m. when the business of the Association will be wound up and organization of the Hockey Club for the ensuing season will take place.

They will rest and feed here and will leave Churchill, about the Brandon, now taking on wheat at Churchill.

This shipment was the first to be fed in the new terminal yards erected this year by Churchill Terminal Stockyards Ltd. and the opening of the yards was made by Hon. W. C. Buckle, minister of agriculture, at a banquet given by the stockyards on Monday.

Accompanying the cattle as far as Churchill are: J. G. Robertson, provincial livestock commissioner; as Helms of the Sask. Farmer; Mr. Cude of South Livestock Feed; the president of Prince Albert Cooperative Stockyards; Dr. T. B. Sprague, government veterinarian and seven attendants.

SWINE BREEDERS FIELD DAY

Cominon Experimental Station, Lacombe, Monday, October 30.

This Swine Breeders' Field Day should be of interest and profit to every farmer. During the last 18 years no one has been raising his pigment better returns than hog raising. With the new preference on the live market the next five years should see much higher profits if we have the right type of hogs.

At this Swine Field Day the proper type of select bacon hog will be demonstrated alive and in Wilshire siding, as compared with the butcher hog, which costs more to raise and is worth at least $2.00 less per hog.

Dr. D. B. Sinclair, University of Alberta, Edmonton, will give a talk and demonstration on the type required in select bacon hogs, confined with food feeding qualities. He will also give a demonstration of type of hogs and swine required to produce select bacon hogs.

H. E. Wilson, Experimental Station, Lacombe, will give an outline of the breeding and feeding experiments under way at the Experimental Station in Alberta. He will also give an outline of the type required in select bacon hogs.

F. M. Baker of the Industrial and Development Council of Canadian Meat Packers will give a demonstration on the different types of dressed hogs as they appear on the rail. Mr. Baker will also discuss questions in connection with marketing hogs.

S. G. Freeborn, Dominion Livestock Branch, will discuss the different types of hogs and the assistance to farmers in raising hogs.

S. G. Carley, Live Stock Commissioner for Alberta, will discuss the type of hogs that are in demand in the west and I hope he will do so.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Moe were Sunday guests at the J. E. McLeod home in Calgary.

They were talking of the business affairs of their husbands and the clatter of the subway.

Yes, said Mrs. Luckenpenny proudly, dear Claude is going to draw out all his capital from the bank and set up in business on his own.

Indeed, murmured Mrs. Hopkins, who was not finding it easy to follow the friend's conversation, and the due of the train is that so.

Oh yes! He leaves the office next week. He has burnt his bridges, you see.

Mrs. Hopkins blushed uncertainly. My dear, she said sympathetically, I do hope they weren't his best ones.

Visitors were present at the funeral of a young man named George.

Had obliged with a smile.

This time you won't make me give all those who so efficiently helped me in connection with the fire last Saturday.

HARVEST THANKSGIVING AT ST. MICHAEL'S CHURCH

Morning Service commenced with the Paraphrase of Psalm 138 arranged by Mr. J. B. Wilkes, and came to a close with the singing of the hymn "O God, the Father of the Poor," the hymn called attention to Psalm 137, and the number of songs sung to God for His goodness in biblical times, the three chosen by Mr. Winter being the Love, Wonder and Faithfulness to be found in the heart of a child. Prayers were even better attended and the sermon referred to the education of S. Timothy in the words of the Sacred Writings by his mother and grandmother; and to how during 150 years in Canada, Sunday School work has developed from its beginning under Dr. Rogers in S. Paul's, Halifax, through Upper and Lower Canada, and in Rupert's Land. While the evening hymns were largely sung in the traditional German language, Sir George Elvey's St. George, was the air for Dean Alderton. Come, ye Thracian People, Come, and a good hymn had just to be found for Sir A. Sullivan's, Bishop-gard.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. M. Van Der Velde desire to express their sincere thanks to all those who so efficiently helped them in connection with the fire last Saturday.

Albert Edwards had won one first and a third, and Elaine Barton brought one third home. The dust storm which blew up in the afternoon was very unpleasant for the youngsters but they all report a good time.

BILL TERRY SIGNS TO MANAGE
GIANTS FOR NEXT FIVE YEARS

New York:—Bill Terry who led the New York Giants to the baseball championship in his first full year at the helm signed a five year player-manager contract at a substantial increase in salary, reliably reported to call for $40,000 per season.

Charles A. Stoneham, president of Giants, made the announcement after a conference with Terry and as a prompt recognition of the sensational achievement of Memphis Bill in leading the club on top of the baseball world this year. All Stoneham would say about the terms, however was that both parties to the agreement were greatly satisfied.

Terry had another year to go under the managerial contract he signed after succeeding John J. McGraw in 1932, but this was torn up by mutual consent. It was understood Terry received $30,000 a year ago under the former contract. The new agreement puts Terry in complete charge of the team up and including 1938.

It looks, said Terry, as though I'm going to be around here for a long time. I'm tickled to death about it.

Stoneham took the opportunity to deny the latest rumor that he had sold his ball club. The report bounds up every month or so.

BYE ELECTION IN MACKENZIE NEXT MONDAY

Next Monday October 22nd the bye elections in Mackenzie will take place and the public are much interested in the result.

The riding has been represented by Milton W. Campbell who nominally was a Progressive, but usually he was found in opposition to Liberalism but his affiliation with the Conservatives was quite marked. In recent years and about a year ago he received his reward when he was appointed by the Bennett Government to the Tariff Board and created no little surprise when the announcement was made.

The political history of the constituency does not in fact supply reliable data for an estimate of the present division of political opinion in the constituency. What seems clear is that the C. C. F. candidate, ex-Judge Struthers, does not inherit Mr. Campbell's following in its entirety. The extreme radicals who supported Mr. Campbell have their own candidate this time; and so have the Conservatives, who have put a candidate in the field for the first time since 1911. The organization that sent Mr. Campbell to parliament is thus disrupted, being represented in the present contest by no less than three candidates: Mr. L. P. McNamee, Farmers Union League; L. St. George Struthers, C. C. F.; and S. H. Edgar, Conservative. Estimates based on past performances would seem to indicate that A. J. MacMillan, the Liberal candidate, is in the favored position.

BIG INTERESTS ARE PLANNING NATIONAL GOVERNMENT

It is reported by the Ottawa correspondent of Toronto Saturday Night that there is much talk in the capital about the supposed need of a national government with the making of plans for bringing such a government into being. It is added that among those who do not seem to be interested in the movement are two men of some political prominence: R. B. Bennett and Mackenzie King. Without their sympathy and co-operation, it is surmised by the writer that not much progress will be made in bringing about a national government by the fusion of the Liberal and the Conservative parties.

There were a real demand in Canada for a national government based upon a genuine need and a well defined programme of national policies to be initiated and carried out, the resistance to the movement by Mr. Bennett and Mr. King would not mean much; they could be swept aside quite easily. But if these political leaders are indifferent to the present movement—which is certainly the case with respect to Mr. King and Mr. Bennett—then the movement will be in no danger of thereby getting into dispute with the public. For there is no general public support at all for the kind of national government that is desired by those who for the past year or so have been talking about the need for a fusion of parties to give effect to programmes which they have in mind.

The purpose behind this movement is nothing more or less than to insure the continuance with increased rigidity of the policies with which the Bennett government has been identified for the past three years. A continuation of powerful interests co-operating.

ated in a highly effective manner in 1920 with the Conservative party in bringing about a change of government; and they did this in the confident expectation based quite likely upon a definite understanding that policies desired by them would be put into effect. The plan worked out very well for them. For three years now all of these special interests has been the law of the land. The policies of the government in great things and in small have been consistent with a fixed point of view; that the interests of the great mass of the people coincide with the desires and the ambitions of a particular group of people who regard themselves as constituting in effect a governing class.

The demand for a national government of which something is heard from time to time, comes wholly from these parties. They realize, if Mr. Bennett does not, that the combination of 1920 which, as they thought, ushered in a long period of control of the government and of the country by the forces they represent, is already deprived of moral authority and will be destroyed once the elections are given an opportunity of indicating what policies and what leaders they prefer. Hence their advocacy of a national government which would re-establish their power and ensure a continuance of the policies which they find so agreeable.

NAMAKA

There has been a kind of stomach flu prevalent among the children of Namaka School this past week. Those on the sick list were: Orville and Millie Bremner, Liza, Teena and Peter Dierksen, Mavis and Marjory Mackie, Marilyn and Margaret Miller and Roy Little and the Hober children.

A young man recently married was saying to a friend: "I'm a bit in doubt as to what to call my mother-in-law. You see, my own mother is living; and it doesn't seem right to me to call my wife's mother 'mother'."

"That's easy, the friend replied. I was up against the same thing. The first night I addressed her as 'Mam'; at first I called her Grandma."

Pleased With Canada

The magnificent scenery of Canada so enthralled Lord Marmillan chairman of the Royal Commission on banking, that he was so much impressed, just prior to sailing for England on the Empress of Britain, that it dwarfed the scenery of Scotland, and that the only thing needed was for some author to blend it with the romantic history of the famous Canadian writer Scott had blended the scenery of Scotland with the romantic history of the land of Bonnie Prince

Charles. A lake he visited in the Gathauau Valley he admitted was more magnificent than Loch Lomond, while his description of Lake Louise was that it seemed to him almost a celestial vision. The Butchart Gardens in Victoria he asserted to be the most beautiful sight that he eyes could rest on—in fact throughout the whole of his life he declared that every where he went, and declared that he would carry back with him memories that he would cherish.
